DETAILED ACTION

This communication is in response to Applicant's Amendments and Remarks filed 04 October 2007. To clarify, the Examiner would like to note the Applicant's Amendments and Remarks filed 04 October 2007 are in response to a non-final action issued 31 July 2007, not a final action as stated in Applicant's Remarks.

Information Disclosure Statement

The Information Disclosure Statement filed 01 November 2007 has been considered.

Status of Claims

Claims 1-5, 8-15, 18-24, and 27-29 are currently pending. Claims 1, 3, 11, 13, 20, and 22 are currently amended. Claims 6, 7, 16, 17, 25 and 26 have been canceled. Claims 1, 11 and 20 are independent claims.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 04 October 2007 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicants argue that the references, Atkins, Sullivan, and Leemhuis, alone or in combination, fail to teach or suggest each and every limitation of the newly amended claims. The Examiner respectfully disagrees, as the references do teach: (1) projecting using user-provided information and market data and (2) risk analysis utilizing risk events and projections, as detailed in the rejection below. Specifically, col. 11, 13, 16 and 39 of the Atkins reference teaches a Home Account mortgage product which adjusts the total assets and does a calculation of adjusted total assets which are checked periodically. The system can provide individual reports that are updated on a real time basis. At col. 16, the system teaches taking into account risk/return preferences, and personal and general economic and financial projections. The system also teaches a user can access a host of ancillary investment news, information, advice and counseling. The rejection of claims 8-10, 18-19 and 27-20 by the cited references is detailed below. Although, certain columns of the references are cited, the Applicant is asked to utilize the references in their entirety.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claims 1-5, 8-15, 18-24 and 27-29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Atkins (US Patent No. 5,875,437) in view of Sullivan et al (US Patent No. 6,615,240B1, hereinafter Sullivan) and further in view of Leemhuis (US Patent No. 6,470,325). In reference to claims 1, 11 and 20, Atkins discloses a method, system and computer program for developing a financial plan comprising:

- a. projecting expected yearly income for a period of time; projecting expected yearly expenses for said period of time based on user-provided data and external market data; and providing at least one of the investment advice for any surplus of income over expenses and financing advice for any deficit of income over expenses (abstract; at least: col. 7, line 19 – col. 11, line 64; col. 16; col. 29).
2. In reference to claims 2, 12 and 21, Atkins discloses the method wherein the user income and expense history resident on external databases can be accessed by the model (abstract; at least: col. 7, line 19 – col. 11, line 64).
3. In reference to claims 3, 13 and 22, Atkins discloses the method wherein the user can introduce risk events into the model and perform a risk analysis based on the combination of the risk events, the expected yearly income, and the expected yearly expenses (abstract; at least: col. 7, line 19 – col. 11, line 64; col. 16+ ("This model takes account of risk/return preferences, and personal and general economic and financial conditions.")).

4. In reference to claims 4, 14 and 23, Atkins discloses the method wherein the risk event includes at least one of: job loss, disability, casualty, market downturn, theft, fire or collision (abstract; at least: col. 7, line 19 – col. 11, line 64).

5. In reference to claims 5, 15 and 24, Atkins discloses the method wherein the model predicts and highlights potential cash surplus and cash flow shortage for the use (abstract; at least: col. 7, line 19 – col. 11, line 64).

6. In reference to claims 8-10, 18-19 and 27-29, Atkins discloses the method wherein the financial model displays the aggregate cash flow in the form of a timeline over a defined period of time; wherein each annual point of said timeline can be interactively dragged up and down on its vertical axis; and the financial model recalculates the aggregated cash flow based on the new positions of said annual points (abstract; at least: col. 7, line 19 – col. 11, line 64; col. 17; for aggregated cash flow, please see especially col. 11, lines 28+ assets and their calculation and col. 13, line 17+, the individual account subsystem is the central operating account through which all transfer, exchange, savings, investment, and borrowing transactions are implemented, coordinated, controlled, analyzed and reported to the individual).

7. In reference to the above claims (claims 1, 11, 20 and their dependent claims), Atkins discloses providing over the wide area network, accessible customized automated coaching directly to a user (abstract, at least: col. 7, line 19 – col. 11, line 64) but does not disclose:

- b. independent, customized counseling by a live advisor.

However, Sullivan discloses independent, customized counseling by a live advisor in addition to automated coaching directly to a user (abstract; at least col. 2, line 11 – col. 3, line 67). In fact, the automated coaching and the live counseling are both dynamic, customized counseling services provided by the web-page. The automated session has “customizable points” during the navigation of the session. The live counseling sessions are customized to the client because the counseling session takes into account and customizes the session based on the actions and resources the client has already utilized when conducting the live help. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the Applicant's invention to have modified the automated coaching of Atkins to include the live advisor function of Sullivan because it would (1) increase the efficiency of the system for the user, (2) user satisfaction would increase and (3) the advisor system would benefit from increase efficiency.

8. In reference to the above claims (claims 1, 11, 20 and their dependent claims), the system of Atkins and Sullivan discloses a method, system and apparatus for the financial planning method and system as detailed above including the financial projecting and the automated and live advising utilizing external market data. The Atkins and Sullivan system does not disclose:

c. Providing over the wide area network, access to the customized coaching and counseling, via a user-selected service level agreement selected from a plurality of available unique service level agreements, wherein each of the available, unique service level agreements includes a unique combination of amounts of accessible customized counseling by the live advisor, the customized automated counseling and the external market data.

However, Leemhuis discloses a method, system and apparatus for financial planning that:

- Providing over the wide area network, access to the customized coaching and counseling, via a user-selected service level agreement selected from a plurality of available unique service level agreements, wherein each of the available, unique service level agreements includes a unique combination of amounts of accessible customized counseling by the live advisor, customized automated counseling and external data. (col. 2, line 35+).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the Applicant's invention to have modified the Atkins and Sullivan financial system with the service level agreement selection process of Leemhuis because the agreement would allow the customer to design the service level to their specifications.

Conclusion

9. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
